

We hope to answer all your questions on tickets, specifications when either traveling to Bonn for the conference – including COVID-19 regulations – or participation online, accessibility and any issues you might have with registration on this site.

Tickets

When traveling to Bonn

About virtual participation

Accessibility

Registration issues

Tickets

Q. How can I register for the DW Global Media Forum 2022?

A. Registration is now open. You will then be able to buy your ticket and subsequently also log onto the digital event platform. There will be different types of tickets: full access and virtual access. Please note: until May 10, 2022 we offer an early bird ticket.

Q. What is the difference between the full access and virtual access ticket?

A. The full access ticket allows you to attend the event on-site at the Bonn Conference Center (WCCB) in Germany including a reception at DW headquarters on Monday evening and a dinner cruise on the Rhine river on Tuesday evening. This ticket also gives you unlimited virtual access.

The virtual access ticket allows you to attend the conference from the comfort of your home or anywhere you are at the time of the event. It additionally includes especially tailored online workshops.

Both tickets include an on-demand access to all sessions for four weeks after the event.

Q. How much do the tickets cost?

A.	2-Day Conference Pass	Virtual Conference Pass
Early Bird Special (Until May 10, 2022)	€ 199	–
Standard (From May 11, 2022) SOLD OUT	€ 299	€ 49
Students	€ 89	–
Dinner Cruise along the Rhine River Valley	included	–

Q. I am a journalist and would like to report on the event. Can I get accredited for the event?

A. Yes, you can go through accreditation with your valid journalist ID. Participation for accredited journalists is free of charge.

Q. I will be attending the DW Global Media Forum and would like to report on the event. How do I receive relevant press information?

A. Information and press releases regarding DW and the DW Global Media Forum 2022 can be found at the DW press website. If you require further assistance, please contact the DW corporate communications team at communication@dw.com. If you want to stay updated about the DW Global Media Forum beyond this year's conference, kindly sign up for our bi-weekly newsletter here.

Q. I don't work in journalism. Can I still attend the DW Global Media Forum?

A. Yes, we encourage and welcome interdisciplinary exchange and will be delighted to have representatives of all kinds of backgrounds attend our conference. We look forward to meeting you!

When traveling to Bonn

Q: If I travel to Germany for the Global Media Forum, what are the rules concerning the COVID-19 pandemic?

A. Entering the European Union and Germany, certain requirements have to be fulfilled during the ongoing pandemic. The Federal Foreign Office gives you a frequently updated overview of these entry requirements on the website of the Federal Foreign Office. As the situation continues to evolve dynamically, detailed access regulations to the conference itself will be subject to ongoing changes but will very probably include COVID vaccinations and/or testing.

Q. Does the full access ticket include accommodation and travel expenses?

A. No, travel expenses and accommodation are not included. However, the WCCB is surrounded by many hotels and Bonn can be reached easily by car, train or plane via Airport Cologne/Bonn or Frankfurt. The conference ticket does include a bus and train ticket from public transport service SWB on both conference days in the Bonn city area.

Q. Do I have to take care of meals by myself?

A. No, we will provide meals at the WCCB. Food and drinks will be provided at all times during the conference so that you are free to attend the sessions and network with your fellow participants from around the globe.

Q. In which language will the conference be held?

A. The conference language is English.

About virtual participation

Q. Can I watch the livestream from anywhere, i.e. outside Germany or Europe as well?

A. Yes, there is no geographic restriction to the livestreams.

Q. Can I follow the conference via LTE on my cell phone or tablet?

A. Yes, if you have a stable LTE connection. Please remember, however, that streaming will take up between 0.5 and 3.0 GB of data per hour, depending on the video quality settings.

Q. I will be attending the DW Global Media Forum and would like to report on the event. How do I receive relevant press information?

A. Information and press releases regarding DW and the DW Global Media Forum 2022 can be found at the DW press website. If you require further assistance, please contact the DW corporate communications team at communication@dw.com. If you want to stay updated about the DW Global Media Forum beyond this year's conference, kindly sign up for our bi-weekly newsletter here.

Q. Is there a netiquette for the DW Global Media Forum 2022?

A. Yes. The forum is meant to encourage the free exchange of opinions, information and ideas. Please observe our netiquette guidelines, available here. Comments that violate these principles will be removed.

Q. I don't work in journalism. Can I still attend the DW Global Media Forum?

A. Yes, we encourage and welcome interdisciplinary exchange and will be delighted to have representatives of all kinds of backgrounds attend our conference.

Accessibility

Q. What about accessibility?

A. Registration and recall of most contents on our conference website is possible via screenreader.

Registration issues

Q. I have not received an email to change my password, what can I do?

A. Please contact gfm.registration@dw.com.

Q. I have forgotten my login password, what can I do?

A. Please go to Login. There you can reset your password.